MYRTLE BEACH LEGENDS GOLF FOR 4

Four nights on the Grand Strand, with four rounds of golf for four golfers at the Legends Golf Resort in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, and a two-bedroom villa set right on the Parkland Course. This is a golf trip built around choice, comfort, and the easy rhythm of a Scottish-village resort where everything you need is easily accessible.

The Legends Golf Resort gives you five premium, uniquely designed courses to choose from. Three sit onsite at the Myrtle Beach Legends Clubhouse: the Parkland, Heathland, and Moorland courses. To the north, Oyster Bay is in Calabash, North Carolina, and to the south, the Heritage Plantation is in Pawley's Island, South Carolina. Oyster Bay Golf Links alone was voted Golf Digest's 1983 "Resort Course of the Year" and ranked among the publication's top 50 public courses in the country in 1990, a marsh-woven layout with two island-green par threes. Every round comes with a breakfast buffet, lunch, and two draft beers or fountain drinks, plus unlimited range balls and a 30-acre lighted practice facility to warm up on. Evenings belong to the Ailsa Pub, the resort's own Scottish tavern named after the Ailsa Craig off Turnberry, where you can catch the game across 16 high-definition TVs or unwind by the adjacent pool and hot tub.

Home base is a spacious two-bedroom villa surrounded by the Parkland Course, with two full baths, two beds per room, a TV in each, and a large living and dining area. The kitchen comes fully equipped with a microwave oven, dishwasher, and a fridge with ice maker, alongside a washer, dryer, and free high-speed internet. Friendly, well-trained staff and daily housekeeping keep it effortless, preferred tee times keep the golf moving, and a nightly drink at the Ailsa Pub caps each day.
